Webster defines collage as an assembly of diverse fragments or ideas. This history then, is a collage of family stories submitted by family members, in their own style of writing, of facts gleaned from county records, and of newspaper articles and their dates of publication. We have made every effort to bring to the reader a little bit of everything that concerned our county's past and present, through this collage. We have missed many important people and events only because no one submitted the information, a fact that greatly saddened us.

History Book Committee

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Thanks is such an inadequate word to use to express my gratitude to all who submitted works of historical value, business, church, organization histories and family stories or helped in any way to bring this book to your book shelves. It is doubly inadequate when one tries to thank others who helped so willingly and gave so much of their time: first and foremost to Linda J. Crotchett, County Clerk and her staff who were members of the history book committee, for their patience, for collecting stories and book deposits and for an enormous amount of time spent with persons needing information and copies to complete their stories for the book; to the Jersey County Board Members who provided office space and equipment, making it a convenient place for the collection of family histories and photos and for consultations; to the Jersey County Historical Society members who made phone calls alerting the public to the coming history and for historical materials; to the Jerseyville Public Library for patience in keeping the microfilm reader operational and full of paper; to Barbara Ogden and her staff, Jeris Scoggins and Inez French for keeping my Geography correct; to Charles Huebner and the Circuit Clerk's office for assistance in providing facts of historical and legal value; to the Court House employees who created a pleasant working atmosphere; to Judy Wimmersberg and Marsha Buis for carrying lunch to me; to Wilma Anderson for many, many hours of proof-reading; and last but not least, to Wanda F. Crotchett who assisted me in every way possible, but swears not to volunteer for anything ever again. To all of the above, I give you my thanks; the pleasure and satisfaction are mine.
